Here's our 'and, Randolph.

President Roosevelt always finds a Lodge in some vast wilderness when he is attacked by Tillman et al.

Montpelier does not need to squeeze water out of stocks. It has its water bonds to squeeze down and is doing it.

A minister in Ohio confesses that he has married thirteen times and an In-

New York Central. If the management of the road can be curbed in no other way, perhaps a voluntary organization of its regular passengers might be formed to employ counsel and take legal steps to secure reform.

From the above facts and testimony there is one conclusion, which is, that the railroad caring to give adequate service can do so, cold weather or no cold weather. In the above illustration occurring within 24 hours, the New York Central railroad kept its scheduled time in running from Chicago to Buffalo, and the Boston & Albany lost five and one-half hours in the run from Buffalo to Boston. We have no knowledge of that other railroad scape-goat, "poor coal," but presume that the New York Central would be apt to use the same fuel on all its lines including the Boston & Albany, and so that cannot be held up as an excuse for the poor service on the Boston & Albany division. One would be willing to allow a few minutes' delay on the ground of extremely cold weather and perhaps half an hour, but never five and a half hours for that cause. The chief reason for the different kinds of service is largely found in the equipment. The New York Central equips its main line adequately as a matter of pride.

BASEBALL WITHIN OUR MEANS.

It is gratifying to note that local men who are interested in a baseball league the coming summer feel that it would be senseless to continue the policy of three years past in which each city vied with the others in trying to spend the most money. They have felt the same conviction for several seasons but have never been so guided because of the majority action of the other representatives in the Northern league. They got to traveling in fast athletic company and their only alternatives were to go the same pace or drop out. The matter of pride prevented their dropping out, so there was nothing left but to quicken the pace to keep stride with the others. It was only by judicious management that the liabilities of the Inter-city association were kept down to what could be raked and scraped together last year. But the effort is too much of a strain and hardly worth while. With such crowds as attended last summer, the association should have had resources on hand instead of being forced to work hard to make both ends meet. If a league is formed, it should be composed of cities which know the value of money through the individual pocketbooks of its supporters.

Muslin Underwear!

There Never Has Been a Time When Muslin Underwear Hasn't Appealed to the Feminine Nature!

Even in the old days when people cared little for dress the Undermuslins received unusual attention and many a candle has sputtered well into the night to make lace and embroidery for the "tresseau."

Great changes have been wrought in the manufacture of Muslin Underwear since the days of even Priscilla, and while there always was and always will be a certain charm and worth to the hand made, I'll bet there wasn't a woman of the 1700-time but what would rather have been living nowadays, when they could step right into a store like this fifteen minutes after the question had been popped and buy Underwear just as dainty and a good deal better shaped than they ever dreamed of making in the days when there was a spinning-wheel in every home.

THE BEST PLACE TO BUY THE BEST UNDERMUSLINS IN THESE PARTS.

"COLD WEATHER AND POOR COAL."

The service, both freight and passenger, on the Boston and Albany railroad in Massachusetts is so very poor at the present time that there are threats to break the lease of the road held by the New York Central railroad, if that be possible. There frequently appear in the Boston papers protests of an earnest nature. The latest one is signed by a score of men who were subjected to the inconveniences of the service, and their protest "believing that conditions will never be remedied unless the indignation felt by so many is expressed by some" is an interesting document. Traveling from Chicago their train was on time and it kept that time up to reaching Buffalo. At the latter place the train was divided into sections, the men in question going on the Boston & Albany section. Between Buffalo and Albany, a run of 5 1/2 hours, their train lost 3 1/2 hours. Between Albany and Boston it lost two hours more. Continuing, the passengers report: "We are informed that this was due to the fact that the Boston section was equipped with inadequate engines, and that the occurrence is not an uncommon one is known to all who use this road regularly and to all who are acquainted with the policy pursued toward the Boston & Albany by the
